

Related Web Sites

National Geographic Wild World: Global 200

<http://www.nationalgeographic.com/wildworld/global.html>

Explore the World Wildlife Fund's critical conservation regions by zooming in on this map (click and drag a rectangle over the map, click a color on the map, or use the zoom bar on the side).

Biodiversity and Conservation: The Web of Life

<http://www.fieldmuseum.org/biodiversity>

Learn all about biodiversity, how and why it's being threatened, and what can be done to maintain and increase biodiversity levels.

Journey to Planet Earth

<http://www.pbs.org/journeytoplanetearth>

Find out about some important environmental issues, including urbanization, water use, environment-related political crises, and the state of the world's grasslands. View video excerpts from the PBS program for which this site was created.

PBS: The Gold Rush

<http://www.pbs.org/goldrush>

This companion site to the PBS documentary contains background information about the California Gold Rush, including descriptions of how the Gold Rush changed California and the people who lived and moved there.

Native Americans: Native Housing

<http://www.nativeamericans.com/Wigwams.htm>

This site shows examples of traditional Native American housing and explains how homes reflected and were well-suited to the natural environment in different parts of North America.